

Virtually Open on Mondays: Éponymies at Galerie Trois Points

July 11, 2011

By Bettina Forget

photo credit: Guy L'Heureux

This week's virtual gallery tour takes us to Galerie Trois Points, who are exhibiting an eclectic group show titled Éponymies. While each artwork has its unique subject, style and medium ranging from photography to painting, hung together they somehow make sense as an exhibition. The net was cast fairly wide; eponym – or “self-titled” – the act of naming something after oneself, is what an artist does with every signature. Each artist claimed an idea and referred a part of it back to him or herself. It's interesting to see the variety of artworks through this lens.

Galerie Trois Points, space 520 group exhibition Éponymies June 11 – August 20, 2011

www.galerietroispoints.qc.ca